Part of the Men Out Have Gone Back to Work.

New York, Sept. 30.—While the labor leaders, thoroughly disheartened by their failure to marshal the union forces of this city for a general strike out of sympathy for the striking street car workers, were casting about yesterday for some means to restore the confidence of the carmen, they received another setback by the desertion of 6,000 of the 12,290 men who constituted the walk out.

The brewery workers, who were the first recruits to the sympathy strike, decided after an all-day meeting to return to their jobs this morning. This leaves the strike approximately 6,290 men, composed of about 4,000 machinists, who have left work individually in certain plants, 1,000 paperhangers, 800 eccentric firemen and 390 painters.

The only encouraging news for the strikers was that six checks for a total amount of $55,000 had been received by William B. Fitzgerald, organizer of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, to pay the strike benefits due to the men. There are about 11,000 carmen on strike and they will receive $5 each. The labor organizers declared that a similar amount would be on hand next week.

My! What a scramble there would be from Maine to California to secure Fall and Winter Apparel while it is procurable at present comparatively slightly advanced prices.
